Latest Naval News.

Master Wm. P. Conway has been ordered to examination for promotion.
Master Chauncey Thomas has been granted leave of absence until the 31 of July, and on its expiration will be detached from the Nautical Almanac office and placed on waiting orders.

The Constitution left the Portsmouth V. A., Navy Yard yesterday afternoon for Newport, R. I.

Lieutenant R. M. Berry, commanding the Rodgers, telegraphs to the Navy Department that he arrived at San Francisco yesterday from Mare Island; that all freights from the east either already there or due on the eleventh, except one case of sheep skin sleeping bags, one case of rubber trousers, and buffalo caps and mittens not yet heard from. He says he will sail without them on the 15th or 16th inst., and try to replace them in one of the northern ports.

The resignation of Commodore W. N. Jeffers as Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance has been accepted by the Secretary of the Navy, to take effect June 30th. He will then proceed under orders to visit Paris and other cities and gather such information as he may in regard to European ordnance, torpedoes, etc.

The most prominent candidates for the office of Chief of Bureau of Ordnance are Commodore Sampson, Commodore Temple, Capt. Ramsey, Capt. Secord and Capt. R. K. Breese, one of whom will probably receive the appointment.

General and Secretary.

It is understood that the new Secretary of War has been won over by Gen. Sherman to recognize the latter's ideas of the rights and prerogatives of the general army. Gen. Grant, when he was general of the army, took the same view as had been held by Gen. Scott, when that officer was in command, that he was independent and not responsible to the Secretary of War. Gen. Scott and Mr. Davis, who was then Secretary of War, had some sharp correspondence on the subject. Gen. Grant contended strenuously for the same view of the case, but after he became President he did not care so much about it. Gen. Sherman, it will be remembered, left Washington and established army headquarters at St. Louis, because President Grant's Secretary of War insisted upon regarding him as a subordinate. Afterwards, when Mr. Hayes came in, his two Secretaries of War were not inclined to make much fuss about it, and Gen. Sherman came back to Washington and had everything his own way. When Mr. Lincoln was appointed Secretary of War, as his appointment was due in a great measure to the influence of Senator Logan, and as that Senator has always been opposed to regular army ideas and assumptions, it was thought likely that Gen. Sherman would have to take a back seat again. But it seems that such has not been the case. Gen. Sherman, it is said was the War Department, just as Admiral Porter, who had to stand aside while Mr. Thompson was Secretary of the Navy, is again potential in the Navy Department.

Kennon-Griswold.

A notable wedding took place at St. Luke's P. E. Church Franklin Square, yesterday morning, at which were a number of prominent Washington and Baltimore people. The contracting parties were Colonel Beverly Kennon of Washington, D. C., and Miss Genevieve Griswold, daughter of Judge Elias Griswold, formerly of Cambridge, Md. The ceremony was performed by the uncle of the bride, Rev. B. B. Griswold. The bride was given away by her father, Judge Griswold. During the ceremony the wedding march from Lohen-Grin was played by Mr. E. Wright Nicoll, of Mount Washington. Colonel Kennon, the groom, was formerly an officer in the United States navy, but resigned his commission at the outbreak of the late civil war, and commanded the Confederate gunboat General Morgan in the engagement at the mouth of the Mississippi river. For some years after the close of the war he held a position on the staff of the Khedive of Egypt.—Baltimore American To-day.

Merriam was chairman, recently convened at the Treasury Department for the examination of revenue marine cadets of the graduating class, concluded its labors yesterday. Foley, of District of Columbia, 90; Percy W. Thompson, of Maryland, 84; Howard M. Broadbent, of Pennsylvania, 84. These gentlemen will now be placed on the list of those who are eligible for appointment in the grade of third lieutenant in the revenue marine service.

Affairs in Ireland.

An inquiry is being held at Dublin Castle relative to the publication in the Freeman's Journal of the private circular addressed by the Inspector General or Constabulary to the officers of that force complaining of the small number of arrests in the disturbed districts. It is reported that some of the Kilmainham prisoners will shortly be released conditionally.

English Opinions on the Irish Question.

LONDON, June 8.—Lord Carnarvon, conservative, formerly colonial secretary, speaking at Burton yesterday, strongly condemned the policy of the government, who he said were responsible for the civil war in Ireland. They would find the question not to be one of land merely, but that every class of property would be menaced. He did not think Englishmen would long be hoodwinked by the reckless rhetoric of demagogues or the plausible nostrums of political quacks.

Sir Richard Assheton Cross, conservative, member of Parliament for Southwest Lancashire, and former Home Secretary, speaking at St. Helena, ventured to say that no government had ever made so many serious mistakes in so short a time, and he had no doubt in regard to the result when they came to be tried at the bar of public opinion, unless then much altered.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, President of the Board of Trade, speaking at Birmingham, said it is perfectly evident that the causes of the disorders in Ireland are more deep-seated than was supposed, and that they are not to be found in the action of this or any previous government. They are to be found in the condition of the people themselves. Force, he said, was no remedy; but a certain amount of force was necessary to uphold the law.

Jersey Brothers.

NEWARK, N. J., June 8.—Charles and John Gurbuck, brothers, engaged in a quarrel in the street yesterday afternoon. John raised a heavy riding whip and struck his brother two blows over the head. The men were separated and Charles went to his home, No. 8 Merchant street. John lives at No. 24. Shortly after he appeared before his brother's house armed with a revolver, and seeing Charles sitting near a window, he fired at him. The ball missed its object and Charles sought shelter. John was arrested at his home and locked up at Police Headquarters.

Fire in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, June 8.—That portion of buildings of the Robinson Wagon Company which was saved from burning when the other buildings were destroyed, two or three months ago, was totally destroyed by fire last night, with a large quantity of property and machinery. The loss was $30,000; insurance $20,000.

Death of a Spanish Archbishop.

PARIS, June 8.—A despatch from Madrid announces that the Most Rev. Fernando Blanco, Archbishop of Valladolid, is dead.

Unprotected Areas.

The movement to compel the erection of iron fences or railings around all the areas in the city not already protected, is being pursued with great activity. A list of over 200 unprotected areas has been made out by the police and assistant engineers. Inspector Entwistle is making each day a vigilant inspection of areas reported along different streets, and a large number of blanks have been printed, attracting the attention of property-holders and notifying them to comply with the law on the subject within thirty days.

These notifications directed to the owners of houses, stores, banks and hotels, are being sent out rapidly, and a strict compliance with the law will be required in every case. The act which covers the question, states that all areas must be protected by an iron railing not less than 42 inches high and set in a stone coping. This is considered a wise, though arduous undertaking, as numerous accidents have been caused by the failure to carry the law into effect.

Sanitary Regulations.

The hot weather, which has returned to-day sufficiently to give an indication of the rapidly approaching heated term, has set people to thinking of the necessary sanitary regulations to prevent illness. The first step which has been taken was a very good one, a thorough investigation of the condition of alleys, has just been completed. To-day, by direction of the Commissioners, the careful and complete cleansing of all unhealthy alleys commences.

The District authorities are also making arrangements for carrying the work of the garbage collectors and other employees of the board of health to the greatest perfection. The street cleaning and sweeping apparatus will commence a more regular and constant round.

The persons upon whom rest the responsibility of the health of our citizens are endeavoring to prove themselves worthy of the almost sacred trust.

The Lincoln Monument.

The Engineer Commissioner finally determined to-day that the Lincoln monument in front of the City Hall, could and should be moved nearer to the building by the appropriation for street improvements. The placing of the statue so that it will show to the best possible advantage however, will require an appropriation by Congress. The statue will probably be moved at short notice, although no time has yet been fixed. The plan for arranging the monument in a more picturesque manner and improving the base is under consideration and drawings and designs will probably be made.

The Ash Barrels of New York.

P. L. Dayton, age 23, who lives at the Hoffman House, was walking in Fifth Avenue on Monday evening, and while swinging his cane hit it against an ash barrel. The blow turned over the ash barrel, and Officer Stoddard, seeing the occurrence, arrested Dayton. August Belmont heard of the arrest and went to the station an hour later and pleaded in vain for the release of the prisoner. Yesterday morning Dayton was arraigned before Justice Hixby, at the Jefferson Market Police Court and fined $3, which he paid.

WITH THE PRESIDENT.

Some of the Callers at the White House to-day.

There was a grand rush at the White House to-day. It seemed as though the entire army of office seekers had determined to make an onslaught on the President before his departure for Annapolis on Friday. Maryland, as usual, was not in town, but the District managed to supply her quota. Owing to the great number of callers and delegations and the busy state of affairs at the White House, the President was unable to receive half of those in waiting.

Postmaster General James, Secretary Hunt, Senator Blair, ex-Senator Clayton, Representatives Speer and Mutchler, Judge Lawrence and Gen. Lew Wallace were among those who had audiences with the President.

A District delegation composed of Dr. Augustus, Dr. Frances, Mr. Tufenferro, Mr. Murphy and Mr. Lemar, (all colored), were there in the interests of ex-Mayor Bowen for District Commissioner. Messrs. O. J. B. Wall, C. B. Purvis and Wm. H. Smith, colored politicians of the District wanted to see the President on private business so they said.

Messrs. A. G. Riddle and Francis Miller extended an invitation to the President to attend the Montgomery county, fair at Rockville, Md., in September next, and the President said he would go if possible.

A delegation was present from Baltimore, headed by Dr. Judson Gilman who came to urge the claims of Mr. T. F. Lang for the position of Naval officer of that port.

Temple Clark one of the contestants for the Postmastership at Chestertown, Md., had a short talk with the President.

Blaine's Palace.

Secretary of State James G. Blaine has completed his arrangements, and to-day took out a permit, through John Fraser, the architect, for the erection of an extensive and magnificent mansion to be built by Robert Davidson & Co., at the corner of Twentieth and P streets and Massachusetts avenue. The site is one of the finest in the city, and the building will probably hold the same rank. The expense will be $48,000, and the workmanship of the most excellent kind. The house has a front of 54 feet and extends back for 80 feet. The building will be heated by steam and have all the modern appliances and conveniences in great perfection.

Too Many passengers.

A warrant was issued yesterday by United States Commissioner Shields for the arrest of Captain Albers, of the steamship Silesia, of the Hamburg line. Captain Albers is charged with having brought to this port, on two occasions, more passengers than the capacity of the vessel entitled him to carry.

Treasury Notes.

The national bank notes received for redemption to-day amounted to $340,000. Government receipts to-day: Internal revenue, $328,065.50; customs, $208,507.04.

Divorce Granted.

In the case of Wm. P. Reddin, who sued for a divorce from his wife, Levira W. Reddin, on the grounds of desertion, a decree of divorce was granted by Justice Wylie to-day.

Policy Playing.

Daniel Reed, who was arrested last week for playing policy, and against whom as evidence, a large amount of policy paraphernalia is held, was brought again into Police Court to-day, and the case continued in order to summon witnesses for the prosecution.

The Building Boom.

Mary H. Summers will build a dwelling in Uniontown to cost $500, and Hanna Ogle one in Howardtown to cost $200.

Condemnation.

Inspector of Buildings Entwistle has condemned the houses 1823 and 1825 G street northwest, as dangerous to life and limb.

Wanting Water.

The Commissioners to-day replied to a request from the Hon. Geo. H. Pendleton and Mr. Robeson that the water main from the high pressure service may be laid so as to supply houses on Sixteenth street, near Scott Circle, that it could not be done without destroying the efficiency of the high service.

A Splendid Dwelling.

B. F. Gratton took out a permit to-day for a residence to be built at the north-west corner of Seventeenth street and Massachusetts avenue, at an expense of $15,000. The residence is expected to be a remarkably fine one, and the erection will be commenced promptly.

Ferment in Ireland.

LONDON, June 8.—The rumor that Father Murphy, of Schull, had been arrested proves to be unfounded, but it threw the people into a violent stage of ferment. Thousands of men and women crowded into the village of Schull, wrecked the police station and post office, tore down the telegraph wires and cut up portions of the road.

Not Guilty.

Abraham White, who was on trial yesterday in the Criminal Court on a charge of burglary, was found not guilty by the jury to-day, it being proven that a visit to an affianced bride, who was a servant in the house, was the cause of his suspicious entrance.

Attacked by Outlaws.

Commissioner Raum to-day received a telegram from Collector Clark, of Atlanta, Ga., stating that Deputy Marshal Bolton, holding also special commission as deputy collector, in attempting to seize a train of three wagons conveying illicit spirits last night at midnight in Forsythe county, was attacked by four armed men who were with the wagons. A fight ensued, in which Deputy Bolton and two of the assaulting party were seriously wounded. Immediately upon receipt of this information I had warrants issued and sent a force in charge of a good deputy, with instructions to seize the property and arrest the outlaws if they can be found. A deputy marshal accompanies the force.

The ball at Masonic Hall last night terminated the four days festival.

LONDON, June 8.—The Geneva correspondent of the Times says it is intended if possible, to run trains on the railway through the St. Gothard by electricity, which is to be produced by the machines now employed in pumping air into the workings and for other purposes.

The Half-Holiday Movement.

BROOKLYN, June 8.—Forty-five workmen who on Monday were locked out by William Hardie, manager of the Niagara Steam Pump Works, in Brooklyn, because they had taken the Saturday half-holiday, refused yesterday to go to work. It is probable that the trouble will end to-day. Mr. Hardie said that he had not given the men permission to take the half-holiday, and that he would under no circumstances pay them more than half a day's wages if they did not work on Saturday afternoon.

Fatal Family Quarrel.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., June 8.—Charles D. Kidder, thirty-five years old, a well known resident and travelling salesman for a Boston dry goods house, was murdered at 10 o'clock last night by his half-brother, Dwight, aged 17. Dwight became very angry two or three days ago because Charles said it was gross carelessness of him to let their sick father go out on the street, and the brothers had since had words about it. Dwight called at Charles' house and asked him if he was ready to take back his words. Charles told him to go home, and tried to push him from the door, when the boy drew a pistol and shot Charles dead through the heart. The lad then ran away.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, through President Barbour, of the Virginia Midland railroad, is also anxious to secure the new road.

Riot at Skibbereen.

LONDON, June 8.—The excitement was taken up by the people of Skibbereen at last accounts, who were engaged in a fearful riot. They wrecked the house of a car-owner who had supplied cars to the police. Their indignation became unbounded when they discovered that a special train with 300 military had been sent from Cork, and they tore down the telegraph wires to Ballydehule.

The Standard's dispatch from Cork says: Ballydehule and Schull are inaccessible by the ordinary roads, which are broken up and the bridges are pulled down. Five hundred foot soldiers, twenty dragoons and seventy service corps men, with one gun, have been sent to the scene from the west.

Affairs in Bulgaria.

LONDON, June 8.—A Vienna dispatch to the Times says: "Whether the rumor of a proclamation of a state siege in Bulgaria is true or false, the army is certainly being used to good purpose. The commissioned officers, all of whom are Russians, have extreme powers."

Bickler Found Not Guilty of Passing Counterfeit Money.

The Criminal Court took up no other cases to-day than the charge against Thos. J. Bickler for passing counterfeit coin. The testimony was considered to show no proof that Bickler had passed counterfeit coin, although sufficient evidence of his having, keeping and concealing bogus money was given.

This afternoon the jury retired and returned a verdict of not guilty with a few minutes' delay, holding that Bickler was not proved to have made or passed the coin. He will be tried to-morrow on an indictment for having in his possession counterfeit coins.

The defendant in these cases is a tall slim old man, with gray hair and long gray beard, his features are sharp and clear and he has piercing bright eyes, in every way he looks capable of clear, sharp, keen practice and good planning but has an appearance of respectability hardly to be expected. The woman Alice Ruff alias Alice Westcott alias Alice Green, and who it is thought has some stake in a fourth alias will also be tried to-morrow if possible for circulating the coin. The third of this counterfeiting trio Emma Baker appears as a witness against the other two. The cases will probably attract great interest among the persons who have heard so much of the numerous swindles committed by these two women, and the circumstance that Bickler is supposed to have attempted poisoning Emma Baker to prevent her from testifying, increases the appearance or possibility of startling revelations.

The Strike in the New York Breweries.

The strike of the brewers' employes continued yesterday quietly. Four additional firms were reported to have acceded to the strikers' demands, making in all twenty-three who have yielded. Some of them, however, have done so nominally, while they have made a private arrangement with their men regarding the adjustment of the Sunday work. Obermeyer & Liebmann signed the pledge of the strikers with the understanding that their wages should be increased $5 per month, and nothing was said regarding the pay for Sunday work. Another brewer made a secret agreement with his men.

More Postmasters.

The President to-day appointed Jerome Bell postmaster at City Island, N. Y., and Thos. Richardson postmaster at Port Gibson, Miss.

Shad Planted in the Connecticut.

A million young shad, obtained from the United States Fish Commission by Senator Hawley, were placed in the Connecticut river at Warehouse Point on Saturday. These fish were two days old, and when a hundred or two were dipped up in a tin basin they looked very much like wriggling hairs less than half an inch long.

Tracing a Headless Man.

The headless body of a man was found a few days ago in the woods near Chicago, Ill. In the pockets of the coat were some cards of the Bremen Steamship Company with the name of Bernhard Parzig written upon them. The case was placed in the hands of detectives in Chicago, who visited this city and Hoboken to see if they could find any trace of the man by that name. At Busch's Hotel, Hoboken, the detectives were told that Parzig registered there November 7, 1880, and remained two weeks. He returned March 4, 1881, and stayed about six days, when he left with the avowed intention of going back to Germany. Capt. H. D. Busch, the proprietor of the hotel stated last evening that he was confident that Parzig sailed for Germany the same day on which he left his hotel in March last.

A New Justice Upon Insanity.

Stephen Wallace, aged 19 years, a
